

SALT LAKE DAILY HERALD

FRIDAY MORNING, MAR. 26, 1880.

THE DAILY HERALD is published every morning, Mondays excepted, at Salt Lake City, by the HAZARD PUBLISHING COMPANY. Subscription price $10.00 per annum, postage included; parts of a year at the same rate. To weekly subscribers collection made by carrier, 25c a week. THE SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD is published every Wednesday and Saturday morning, at $2.50 a year, postage included; parts of a year at the same rate.

KENTUCKY is going to establish the whipping post in that state.

SOME TEMPERANCE fanatics in an Ohio town, on Wednesday, blew up a whiskey saloon, completely destroying it. Such violent temperance will not have a very good effect upon the morals of a community.

THE COLD storm which struck this city on Thursday evening, seems to be sweeping across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It raged on the Atlantic Coast early on Wednesday, and on that night visited the middle states, crossing the plains on Thursday. In the east it has been the severest storm of the winter.

ASSAULTS AND outrages upon women have been of such frequent occurrence of late in Washington, that a petition has been presented to Congress, asking that body to pass a law making it impossible for one to be twice convicted of rape, in the District of Columbia. Now listen for a republican howl about legislation against negroes.

THE SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) Republic can tell of a lecture in Concord by the Rev. Joseph Cook, which was attended by Mr. Emerson. At the close of the lecture it was suggested that a conversation should be held at the latter's house—the most hospitable home that can be imagined. Mr. Emerson, with much feeling, promptly replied, "No! The man who has slandered my friend, Theodore Parker, I shall not invite to enter my house." The Rev. Jo fails to make himself appreciated by decent people anywhere.

THE WASHINGTON Post, democratic organ at the capital, has labored hard to get up a Seymour boom. It has persistently maintained that the better and chieftest statesman is the only man who can unite the democracy and lead it on to victory. It makes no difference to the Post that Mr. Seymour emphatically refuses to become a candidate for the presidency, or to allow his name to be used in connection with the place. Nobody questions the ability of the distinguished gentleman to carry New York in the coming election, and it is probable that he would run as well or even better than the republic, than any other democrat. But if he won't accept the nomination he won't and that should be the end of it. Mr. Tilden is a candidate, and will be the nominee, and further, he will be the next President.

EIGHT HOUR STRIKERS.

With the opening of spring and the resumption of business at the various establishments throughout the country where employment is furnished to day laborers, come the usual complaints on the part of the workingmen, and the news of the renewal of "strike." Some workmen find fault with the hours of labor, and the western trades unions are threatening a general strike next month unless employers shall declare eight hours a day's work. That employers will not and cannot do this workmen should be able to understand. There is a commercial law governing the relations between employers and employees which cannot be changed by the say-so of either. Labor is usually paid for according to what it can produce. Sundry causes or conditions may interfere and temporarily disarrange this commercial law, as circumstances may interfere with the regular working of any other rule or law; but the changes can only be for brief periods. Custom has made ten hours a day's labor, and wages have been based upon that many hours of work. The ordinary workman in any department or branch of industry can produce in ten hours, the equivalent to the ordinary day wage for men in that particular department or kind of labor. If the mechanic earns but $3 in ten hours, he certainly should not expect to be paid $3 for eight hours' work. The commercial law that governs in this matter would award him $2.40 for eight hours. If there is to be a new rule as to the hours of labor there must also be a corresponding readjustment of wages. Workmen may call eight hours a day's work, when the pay for eight hours would become a day's pay. This is one of the things that strikes cannot affect only in exceptional instances when the strikers can get the employer in a tight place and take advantage of his circumstances. Congress undertook to regulate the matter by declaring eight hours will be the standard for all work, and we believe that rule prevails among the employees of government; but the commercial world is not affected by this law. It every state in the Union were to pass a law saying eight hours shall constitute a day's labor, the laborer would still have to work ten hours to get pay for ten hours.

Imprisoned by Perjurers.

Coloqure, 25.—The Gazette reports that the musician who, in July last, for speaking ill of Emperor William, was condemned to eighteen months' imprisonment, has been liberated, after serving six months of his sentence, owing to the discovery that two female witnesses, on whose testimony he was condemned, had committed perjury.

Who May Vote.

SALT LAKE CITY, March 24, '80.

Editors Herald:

On yesterday, after my return, I was asked on the street who were authorized to vote on the question of this loan, for the canal; whether or not there was a property qualification? I, not then having the statute before me, declined to give an unqualified answer, but promised to look at the act and answer through the press. I have reason to believe this question was asked for the reason that in the school law there was a property qualification of the voters who vote on the tax there authorized to be levied, and none when voting for trustees. I have now examined the law authorizing this loan, and find it very clear and easy to be understood. It is the registered voters of this city, as registered for the last regular municipal election. All the voters have to do is to go to the place of voting, there the officers in charge will see that they have an opportunity to cast their votes. If those who see this aspect in remembrance of some trouble need arise, I want all to vote. I think the election is very important indeed. I shall vote and aid in carrying into effect the result, whether I vote with or against the majority.

Yours truly,

Z. SNOW.

Reducing Their Capitalization.

The St. Louis Silver Mining Company has issued notices to its stockholders, proposing to reduce the present capitalization of $1,500,000 to the nominal sum of $150,000. The laws of the State of New York as regards the personal liability of stockholders, are very discouraging to investors, and we are glad to see this move, as thereby there can be no question of the removal of the liability. The par value of a stock, be it of mines or railroads, has no bearing upon the market price. This will be regulated by the ability of the company to pay dividends, and a stock that pays $1 per share per month should sell as high as a $1 par as $100. In fact when the lower capitalization removes personal liability it should sell higher.—Engineering and Mining Journal.

The Kinney Ready to Start Up.

The hoisting machinery and steam pump for the Kinney mine, which arrived here a few days ago from Lancaster, Ohio, are now in position and ready to commence work. The new pump, Colonel Wall expects, will drain every drop of water out of the mine in a very short time. This done, some few tons of waste rock will be hoisted out of the way, and then the extraction of ore commenced in good earnest. A force of about forty men will be put to work in the mine in two or three days, and sufficient ore furnished to keep the battery of the Leeds mill hammering away for months to come. If anybody in the district thinks the Kinney isn't a bird—a Kinney bird, you know—just let him watch the bullock shipments from this time out and be convinced.—Silver Reef Miner.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

SENATE.

Washington, 25.—The Senate adjourns to-day until Monday. Cameron, Pennsylvania, introduced a joint resolution for a commission of three representatives, three senators and three citizens on the regulation of inter state commerce. He supported the resolution. The bill incorporating the national educational association and the bill amending the act of 1879 authorizing the issue of twenty five per cent bonds, of the District of Columbia, passed; also several private bills. The vice-president presented some nominations; also a message from the secretary of war with a letter from the chief of engineers, representing the importance of an appropriation of $75,000 to defray the expenses of a geographical and topographical survey of the Mississippi River. Withers reported the sixty surgeons bill. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.

Washington, 25.—The question of reading the journals came up, and the speaker said the still unfiled business was whether Wednesday's journal should be read before Monday's and Tuesday's. F. Wood, as a compromise, suggested that Monday's, Tuesday's and Wednesday's journals be read, and then the House vote on the resolution discharging the committee on revision of laws from consideration of the Townsend bill, and refer it to the ways and means committee. Blackburn and Townsend assented. Townsend said those conscientiously in favor of this bill had been misled by the false issue which its opponents had raised. He admitted yesterday, but would not retract a single syllable. Townsend said he followed the precedent set by Kelly in introducing the bill without definite title, and it might as properly go to the committee on revision of laws as to the ways and means.

Kelly said his feeling of confidence in and warm regard for Townsend had changed to one of coolness and distrust. He then went on to show that Townsend had violated a law that Townsend had in having this bill so referred. He stoutly defended the ways and means committee as a conscientious and hard-working committee. He hoped until Townsend had committed would be the greatest misfortune of his life.

McMillan complained that under the guise of personal explanation, Kelly was castigating a member.

Young thought the rules so imperfect and unintelligible they ought to be revised.

The previous question on McLane's proposition was recorded, taking the journal from the committee on revision of laws, and referring it to the ways and means committee.

Blackburn demanded a division on the proposition.

On motion of Garfield, Monday's journal was then approved and Tuesday's journal read.

Tuesday's and Wednesday's journals were read and approved.

After some discussion as to whether McLane's resolution should be divided, the house, 142 to 100, discharged the committee on revision of laws from further consideration of the bill. Thirty-five democrats and greenbackers voted with the republicans, and by a vote of 142 to 89, the bill was referred to the ways and means committee.

Cover, chairman of the committee on public lands, reported a bill to quiet titles to the Drakmoles River lands, Iowa, Colorado.

Washington Notes.

Washington, 25.—Secretary Ramsey says that government can only receive sitting Bull's people as prisoners of war, to be held until government provides for their maintenance. General Sherman regards them as British subjects.

The treasury bought 455,000 ounces of silver for San Francisco and New Orleans.

Secretary Thompson to-day, ordered Commander Porter of the tugboat to deliver her cargo to the relief committee of Dublin, and explain that it was donated by a few generous hearted Americans out of sympathy for suffering Irish. He expressed satisfaction at the peaceful character of their mission.

Chicago, 25.—Inter-Ocean's Washington: The senators and representatives from California are not at all pleased with the selection of the commission to negotiate an immigration treaty with China. They claim they have been badly treated, because it is a subject that their constituents are interested in almost exclusively, and they have been given but one member of the board, while two have been selected who know nothing of the situation or the needs of California. They insist that no man can understand the Chinese question until he has come in contact with that race, and that learning by experience is vastly different from learning from theory. It is a beautiful theory that everybody is welcome on our hospitable shores, remarked one to-day, but it is a dreadfully disagreeable one when applied to the Chinese. The Californians claim that Angell and Trecothick have their minds made up, and the result of the commission will therefore not change the present situation.

President Angell has accepted the Chinese mission, and is understood here that he will be granted a leave of two years from his duties as president of the Michigan university. The deadlock in the House of Representatives over Garfield's motion concerning the Townsend tariff bill was terminated this afternoon by the adoption of its simple method of the approval of Monday's journal, and thereupon withdrawing the bill from Townsend's committee and referring it to the committee on ways and means, a common sense procedure which apparently was not thought of until after the House had become too deeply involved in parliamentary difficulties, and too much excited by personal controversies, to act upon any sensible suggestion while the excitement lasted. The whole struggle, in fact, has been a profusion of personal disputes and unparliamentary usages between members. The speaker has been severely criticized for his rulings, and bad blood has been stirred up all around.

The nomination of the new minister to China and those of Hamilton, Swift and Trecothick were taken up during to-day's executive session of the Senate, and referred to the committee on foreign relations, which will meet next Tuesday. It is understood that the committee is not to enter on their mission until Congress shall first have made an appropriation to defray their expenses. This, it is believed, will be readily granted. There seems to be little or no doubt of their confirmation, and that of Mr. Angell, as minister, is conceded on all hands.

The Utes leaves to-morrow, confident that their people will agree to the terms of government. Two of the prisoners are freed by the evidence of Miss Mosker. The interior department is now believed to have a complete list of the guilty parties, coming from one of the Indians themselves, and it is expected they will soon be brought in by the chiefs now returning. Chief Douglas will be detained as a prisoner.

Miscellaneous.

Albany, 25.—Hughes, for the murder of his attorney, Hadley, has been sentenced to prison for life.

Calcutta, 25.—A boiler explosion killed two whites and one negro.

St. Petersburg, 25.—The Casaria is somewhat weaker.

The Car, at the military parade, was very friendly with Lord Dufferin, but cool toward General Chanzy, French ambassador.

Little Rock, 25.—General Grant will be here April 12th, for a visit.

Halifax, 25.—Owing to the demand of this province for cattle for export to England, the price has advanced $2 per 100 pounds.

Coal oil has been discovered in large quantities in the vicinity of Lake Anney, Cape Breton.

Constantinople, 25.—Russia has forwarded 6,000 francs for the relief of refugees from eastern Russia.

Paris, 25.—The Monitor says: If the intentions attributed to the cabinet regarding the Jesuits are not carried out, an interpellation will be addressed to government in the Senate immediately on the opening of the session, for the Senate would consider itself insulted by the conduct of the ministers should they ignore the views it has manifested in its vote on the Ferry educational bill.

Close Call from an Assassin.

Toronto, 25.—A man named Bennett, formerly employed as engineer in the Globe newspaper office, but who was discharged for misconduct, entered the room of H. M. George Brown, at the Globe office, and made a deliberate attempt to assassinate him. Without a word of warning he aimed a pistol at Brown's head, who was sitting at his desk. On hearing the entrance of the intruder, Brown sprang to his feet, and he received the bullet in his right arm, as he grappled with the would-be murderer, wrested the pistol from him and threw him down. The employees of the establishment, hearing the shot, rushed to Brown's assistance, laid Bennett out on a cot, and arrived, who took him to the station. Brown is editor and proprietor of the Globe, leader of the reform party, and a senator of the Dominion.

Vivian Dead.

Chicago, 25.—Charles Vivian, the well-known actor of the Pacific Coast, aged 34, died at the 20th inst., at Leadville, where he has been unsuccessfully conducting a theatre.

Seizure Striking.

Pittsburg, Pa., 25.—Journeyman tailors, of Pittsburg and Allegheny cities, numbering 500, struck, to-day, for an advance, ranging from 10 to 15 per cent.

For Sherman.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE vs. BIBLE.

AUER & MURPHY think the next best thing to abstaining from wine is to drink beer; and to show that such a doctrine is not altogether without authority, submit the following:

Verse 6.—Giveth wine unto him that is ready to perish and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts.

Verse 7.—Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.

Proverbs, Chap. XXXI.

Did Solomon lived until to-day, he would probably have said:

Verse 8.—For "No. 9" is an abomination in the house of God, as is Murphy's Ragged Edge Reserver, loaded with strength to the weak and breath the meaning of sorrow and temptation into one of repulse and mirth.

M. B. ANDERSON,

The Death-rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year, especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every-day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it, and often find too late, that a feverish lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Doan's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Doan's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 50,000 bottles sold last year, without a single failure known. j430
